

Call for Research Fellowship

The Centre for Global Policy Research (CGPR) seeks applications from enthusiastic researchers, academics and PhD scholars as research fellow, who are interested in research projects and publications in (but not limited to) the following areas:

Politics, International Relations, Foreign Policy Analysis, Conflict Resolution, Crisis Management, Strategic Studies, Geopolitics, Geo-economics, Energy Security, The Belt & Road Initiative, Democracy, Public Policy, Health Economics, Climate Change, Migration, Artificial Intelligence, Sustainable Development, Social Mobility, Good Governance, Peacebuilding.

The Centre Global Policy Research (CGPR) is an independent, non-partisan think tank whose peer-reviewed research, foresight and trusted analysis influence policy makers to innovate.

We are delighted to welcome researchers, academicians, and professionals from around the world to our scholarly community. CGPR provides a platform for sharing innovative ideas, valuable research, and new developments. CGPR aims at becoming a primary research and debate platform with relevant online publishing, and other forms of knowledge-transfer, to nurture a comprehensive understanding of the intertwined global policy.

Research Fellows will be provided opportunities to conduct research and collaborate with other scholars for joint publications, and contributions to CGPR for publication such as,

The Research Brief Series

CGPR's Research Brief Series contains shorter texts with a policy orientation (7,000 – 10,000 words including references and biography). Unsolicited texts are subjected to confidential and anonymous peer review.

The Policy Analysis Series

The Policy Analysis Series normally publishes papers (5,000 – 7,000 words including references and biography) pursuant to a select invitation to the author, but others are welcome to make submissions that meet the established standard. Unsolicited texts are submitted for peer review.
